

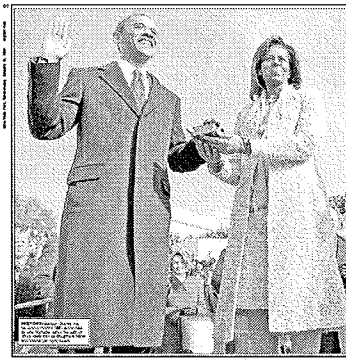

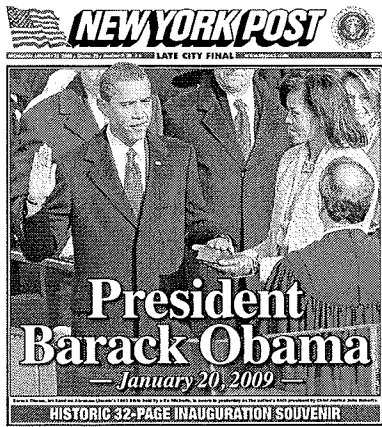

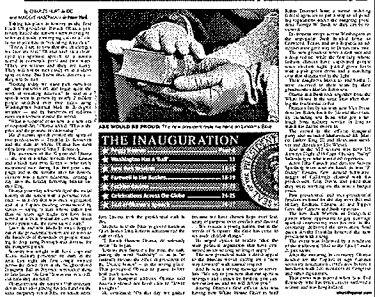

EXHIBIT 6

FOR ALL AMERICA

- President Obama takes historic oath
- Vows a 'new era of responsibility'

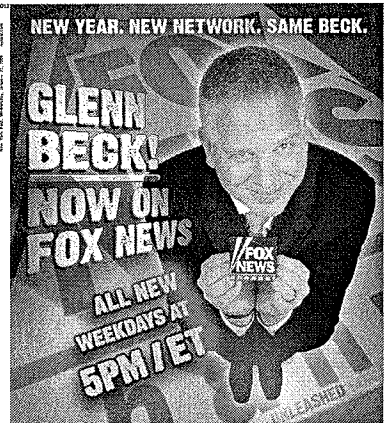

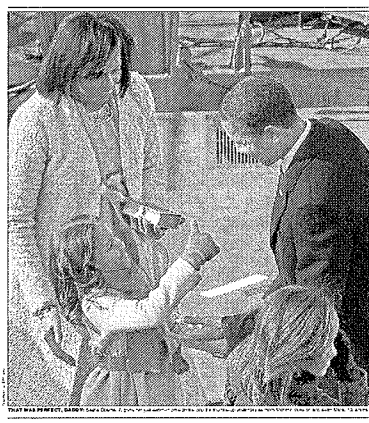

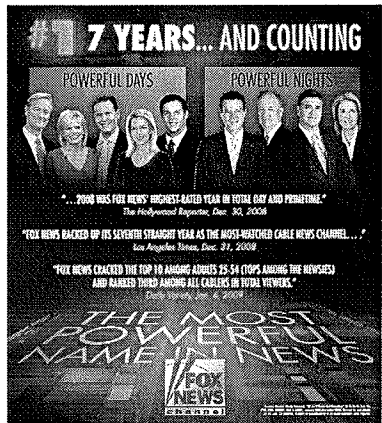

DANCIN' IN THE STREETS

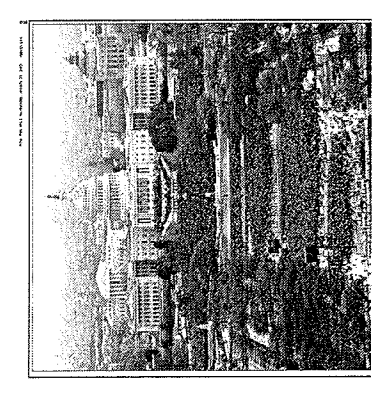

INSPIRING BREAK FROM THE SAME OLD, SAME OLD

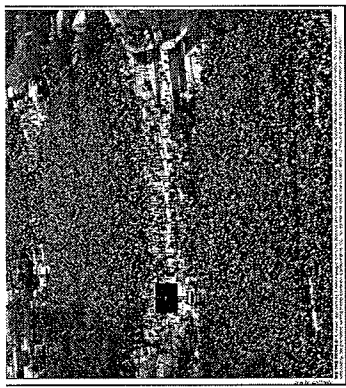

SOBER TALK OF CHALLENGE TEMPERA A JOYFUL MOOD

GOTHAM HOORAY FOR MUST-SEE TV

BUSH RIDES OFF INTO THE SUNSET

Injured Cheney is the 'odd' man out

Cheney's injury, the result of a fall from a horse last week, has made him an odd man out at the White House.

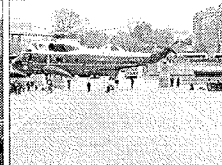

Dubya turns over keys to White House

President-elect George W. Bush and Vice President-elect Dick Cheney today turned over the keys to the White House to President Bush and Vice President Cheney.

to White House

President-elect George W. Bush and Vice President-elect Dick Cheney today turned over the keys to the White House to President Bush and Vice President Cheney.

to White House

President-elect George W. Bush and Vice President-elect Dick Cheney today turned over the keys to the White House to President Bush and Vice President Cheney.

Teddy suffers seizure

Barack rushes to stricken legend's side

Barack Obama, the first African American to be elected to the U.S. Senate, rushed to the side of President-elect George W. Bush's grandfather, Teddy Roosevelt, after he suffered a seizure.

Bush passes off 'football' to new quarterback

President-elect George W. Bush today passed off the 'football' to his new quarterback, Vice President-elect Dick Cheney.

Traffic tangles up Web

The surge in traffic to the White House website today caused a major outage, leaving many visitors unable to access the site.

NEW YEAR. NEW SHOW. SAME HANNITY.
HANNITY
THEY SAY HE'S RIGHT.
ALL NEW WEEKDAYS AT 8PM/7ET
FOX NEWS

Now comes the hard part for O

Barack Obama, the first African American to be elected to the U.S. Senate, now faces the challenge of becoming the first African American president.

MICHELLE

First kids are J.Grew-ners

Michelle Obama's first kids are named J.Grew-ners, a nod to her husband's alma mater, Harvard University.

IN A 'HUE'-TURN

Yays & nays of white gown and green day outfit

Michelle Obama's choice of a white gown for the inauguration has sparked a debate over whether it was a 'yay' or a 'nay'.

'Hometown hero' honored on 3 continents

Barack Obama, the first African American to be elected to the U.S. Senate, was honored as a 'hometown hero' on three continents.

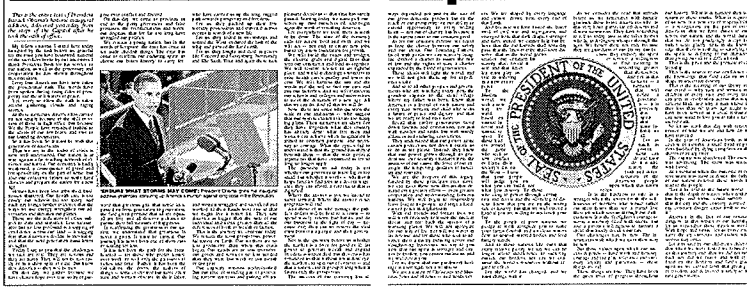

WORLD SHARES IN JOY OF AMERICA'S NEW ERA

The world shares in the joy of America's new era as President-elect George W. Bush and Vice President-elect Dick Cheney are inaugurated.

'On this day, we gather because we have chosen hope over fear'

President-elect George W. Bush today said, 'On this day, we gather because we have chosen hope over fear.'

Let's hair it for the new prez

Barbershop hot spot: A barbershop in Chicago has become a hot spot for people celebrating the inauguration.

Students hail class act

Students at a local school have hailed Barack Obama as a class act.

Page Six at the inauguration
Paula Froelich
Hudson's Landing
Cruz's goal
Starwood
Traffic 'ham'
Green 'party'
Dropped ball
Sweet treats
Piercing pain
Blown at the top

A day in the sun like none before
WE HAVE OVERTIME
Sleepless Harlem flock's joy
Yes, life is good amid the turmoil

BREAKING RECORDS. SETTING RECORDS.
GRETA VAN SUSTEREN ON THE RECORD
#1 FOR 7 YEARS WEEKENDS AT 10PM/9ET
FOX NEWS

Fennel's article (p 30 of 32)